Harassment Is No Joke

By Joe Moreland, Attorney
Blake & Uhlig, P.A.
Kansas City, Kansas

The fundamental reason for this union's existence is to promote economic security and dignity in the workplace for its members. The concept of "union" assumes that the members recognize that their shared interests as fellow craftsmen are far more important to their working lives than any personal distinctions (e.g., religion, politics, race or gender). The overwhelming majority of members of Local #441 obviously understand this. The local union could not have succeeded against great challenges in the State of Kansas if this were not true. But there may be a few who don't get it, and, if so, they pose a real threat to the future success of this local.

As legal counsel I am called upon to defend the collective interests of the union, your union, when a claim is made by an individual who believes that he or she has been the object of unlawful discrimination. While I have no doubt as to the commitment of our officers and those entrusted to run the programs of the local union, experience shows that some among us may cling to the notion that people who differ from the majority have no place, no right to pursue their livelihood as union plumbers and pipefitters in the state of Kansas.

I am aware of a female apprentice who was apparently regarded on the jobsite, and in class, as if she were a bit of cheesecake, there for the entertainment of her male counterparts. I am also told that some of differing racial or cultural background have been treated with hostility, perhaps to convey a message that they aren't welcome. Recently, an apprentice was the victim of an anonymous act which was perceived as a warning that she should find another way to make a living.

As Americans we are virtually all the offspring of immigrants. Everyone who goes to work in this country has the right to be judged on the basis of their work, not upon their color, their gender, their religion or where they came from. Every woman is somebody's daughter, sister, mother or wife, and should be treated in the workplace just as you want yours to be. To do otherwise is not just illegal, it is anti-union and wrong. This union ought not have to fritter away its limited resources paying lawyers to defend against claims of unlawful discrimination at the hands of its members. Such claims are not just matters of expense and inconvenience, they threaten the ability, and the credibility, of this union to do its job for the rest of you.

Harassment on the job or in the apprentice school isn't a laughing matter. If someone is truly incapable of doing the work, or isn't performing up to standards, such can be reported to the contractor, the apprenticeship coordinator or the business manager. But vigilante action grounded in intolerance of another's differences is never O.K. It is the perpetrators of such harassment, not their victims, who are undeserving of a place in the union.

Work is starting to pick up at a slow pace. We are fortunate to have work in the outlying areas. Here are just a few of them: Young’s—Harrah’s—Hoyt and Fort Riley
Johnson Controls—Fort Riley
Huxtable—Fort Riley and Emporia
Lockard—Wamego
Kuhlman—Holton and Junction City
Waldinger (Omaha) - Seneca
EPI (Kansas City) - Belleville
Chaney—Manhattan

We still have some men off and would like to find jobs for all of them.

Local Unions Support Fletcher’s Double-Lung Transplant

Plumbers & Pipefitters Local #441

Brother James Fletcher reports that his sister, Rachel, is recuperating from her double-lung transplant surgery. The surgery was performed in St. Louis on March 23, 2004.

Local unions helped the Fletchers raise over $110,000.00 to help cover the medical expenses for Rachel’s life saving surgery. Rachel had been on oxygen for a year prior to the surgery.

Rachel, 23, is a Wichita State University summa cum laude graduate who suffers from cystic fibrosis. She and James are the children of retired machinist Lee and Phyllis Fletcher.

Apprentices Take Oath of Membership

New members sworn in April 7th include: Joshua Biering, James Cales, Joseph Green, Larry Gregg, Jr., Rusty Hiedeman, Timothy P. Hoover, Todd Ingram, Brandon Kearney, James Mans, Skyler McGinnis, Dung “Jimmy” Phan, Tom Probst, Reginald Thurman, Troy Tucker, Brian Wells, and Chris Peterson.

Bill Farthing was sworn in during the May 12th Wichita meeting.
EMPLOYMENT DISPATCH

The out of work list has held steady in comparison to what was reported in the January newsletter. We had 251 on the master list in January with 82 of those on travel card and 19 apprentices. As of this writing there are 243 on the master list, 78 on travel card, and a noticeable increase with regard to apprentices, 23 on the out of work list statewide.

The work outlook over the next few months for our local Contractors appears to be holding steady. From all indications, work on the road should start steadily picking up. We have reports of work, both commercial and industrial, picking up significantly in the Omaha and St. Louis areas. There should be some good opportunities to get several members out in those two areas starting in late May. There are several other Locals around the Country that are expecting increases in their industrial work.

If you hear of work on the road or have a particular area you would like to know about, please give us a call and we will be glad to check it out. Also, please notify the Hall if you become unemployed. This will insure that you are put on the out of work list in a timely manner.

Turning to the national political scene, the Bush administration is celebrating an economic recovery, but America’s workers know it is hard and getting harder still to find jobs that support families. And they worry their children will have even fewer opportunities. The economic policies of the past three years have done nothing to reverse—and in many ways have worsened—the whopping job losses of the past three years, which erased eight years of solid job growth.

According to data from the U.S. Census Bureau, we’ve lost 2.8 million manufacturing jobs in the past three years—more then we lost in the previous 22 years—and experts say many of those jobs lost are not coming back. For your information, 2.8 million is comparable to the population of states like Kansas, Arkansas, Iowa, Mississippi, Nevada, or Utah.

The jobs our economy is creating are inferior to those we are losing; many don’t provide affordable health care or retirement benefits. While family incomes stagnate, corporate profits were up over 25 percent in 2003.

Keep in mind this is an election year. Please make sure that you, and all your family members, are registered to vote. This could be one of the most important elections ever for organized labor.

As always, if you have any questions or concerns, please don’t hesitate to call or stop by and see me. Enjoy the upcoming summer months and make sure you spend time with your loved ones. Until next time, may you and yours be kept safe and God bless.

As I drove back from a State Apprenticeship Council meeting on Tuesday, those reflections came more to mind when I thought of one of the things that had happened at that State Apprenticeship Council meeting.

One of our own has served for many, many years on the State Apprenticeship Council, as well as on many other councils and committees that have to do with education and training—not only within our own industry but within all facets of society.

Secretary of KDHR Jim Garner presented our own Dwayne Peaslee with a Certificate of Recognition for his service to the state apprenticeship council—just a small token of thanks from this current administration to Dwayne for all the years that he has given to us.

I sat and thought as I drove home that I could remember the first time that I met Dwayne about ten or twelve years ago. I went out to the Hilton and had lunch with him. He was in town on a Connecting Education to Industry convention.

Dwayne was addressing the majority of the educators in the public education system in Kansas on things that they should look at in making education a little more practical.

For example, when a math problem requires an essay, making it relate so they can relate it to a natural life experience or what they were actually doing at work.

Cessna Citation Maintenance Facility

The 450,000 square feet facility is expected to be completed this November.

The five complete aircraft service bays will be able to service 100 aircraft a day.

Cessna has several service centers in the United States and Paris to service the over 4,000 Citation jets.

The Wichita Center was announced in November 2001. In May 2003 the Wichita based Law Company was awarded the contract that began last summer.

Prevailing Wage-Living Wage

A prevailing wage sets the wage standard for workers in the construction industry. It allows for a livable wage thereby lifting living standards, boosting the local economy, strengthening the tax bases and reducing the burden on taxpayers by lowering the number of unemployed workers.

Prevailing wage is a continuing union objective.
Health and Welfare

The Trustees of the Plan met on January 21, 2004. At this Meeting the Plan’s COBRA rates increased to $327.00 for Single Coverage and $630.00 for Family Coverage. The rate for those individuals that have exhausted their 18 months of Termination COBRA, but who are verified as 100% disabled and who are eligible for the 11 month COBRA extension is 150% of the Single or Family Rate. The new rates were effective March 1, 2004. The details regarding the rules surrounding COBRA Coverage are stated in your Summary Plan Description (SPD).

As required by Federal Law the Trustees have adopted new “Privacy Practices”. If you are a Qualified Participant or Dependent in the Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry Health and Welfare Fund of Kansas you should have received or will soon receive by mail the following notice.

NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES
Effective April 14, 2004

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

PURPOSE OF THE NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES
We provide this Notice of Privacy Practices ("Notice") to you to describe how we may use and disclose your protected health information for purposes of payment or health care operations, and for other purposes that are permitted or required by law. This Notice also describes your rights with respect to your protected health information and how you can exercise those rights. We do so consistent with the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, and its regulations (the "Privacy Rule"). Throughout this document, the terms "you" or "yours" refer to each individual who is covered by the Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry Health and Welfare Plan of Kansas (the "Plan"). The terms "we," "us," and "ours" refer to the Plan. "Protected health information" or "PHI" is individually identi-

For Health Care Operations: We may use and disclose your PHI in connection with our health care operations, including quality assessment, customer service, legal and auditing functions, fraud and abuse detection and compliance programs, business planning and development, and general administrative activities. For example, we may share your PHI with a private investigator to help detect potential fraud or abuse.

To the Board of Trustees: We may disclose summary health information to the Board of Trustees for the purpose of obtaining premium bids from other health plans, or modifying, amending, or terminating the Plans. We may also disclose information to the Board of Trustees regarding whether you are participating in or have enrolled in or disenrolled from the Plan. The Trustees will not use your PHI for any employment-related decisions.

To Your Personal Representative: We may disclose your PHI to your personal representative. A person is your personal representative only if he or she has legal authority to act on your behalf in making decisions related to health care. We may require your personal representative to produce evidence of his or her authority to act on your behalf. We may not recognize a person as your personal representative if we have a reasonable belief that treating that person as your personal representative could put you in danger and we decide that it is not in your best interest to treat him or her as such. In addition, in the event of your death, we will treat an executor, administrator, or other person authorized under the law to act on behalf of you or your estate as your personal representative.

To Individuals Involved in Your Care: Unless you object, we may disclose your PHI to a member of your family, a relative, a close friend, or any other person you identify, who is involved in your care or the payment for your care. We will only disclose PHI that directly relates to that person's involvement in such care or payment. If you are not present, or in the event of your incapacity or an emergency, we may disclose your PHI based on our professional judgment of whether the disclosure would be in your best interest. Additionally, we may use or disclose PHI to notify or assist in notifying a family member, personal representative, or any other person who is responsible for your care, of your location, general condition, or death. We may also use or disclose your PHI to an authorized public or private entity to assist in disaster relief efforts.

For the Public Interest: We may disclose your PHI, to the extent the disclosure is:

- Required by law;
- Pursuant to a judicial or administrative order;
- Pursuant to a subpoena, discovery request, or other lawful process, provided we obtain satisfactory assurances that reasonable efforts have been made to either notify you of the request or to obtain a protective order;
- To a public health authority, for the purpose of controlling disease, reporting vital statistics, the conduct of public health investigations, or reporting child abuse or neglect;
- To a governmental authority, for the purpose of reporting suspected abuse, neglect or domestic violence;
- To a health oversight agency, for purposes of oversight activities authorized by law, including audits, investigations, inspections, licensure and disciplinary actions;
- To law enforcement officials for the purpose of identifying or locating a suspect, fugitive, material witness, or missing person, or if you are suspected to be a victim of a crime;

- To a coroner or medical examiner, for purposes of identification or to determine cause of death;
- To funeral directors, as necessary to carry out their duties with respect to a decedent;
- To organ procurement organizations for the purpose of facilitating organ, eye, or tissue donation or transplantation;
- To prevent serious threats to health or safety;
- To military command authorities to assure the proper execution of a military mission;
- To authorized federal officials for national security and intelligence activities;
- For protective services for the President and others;
- To correctional institutions and law enforcement officials if you are an inmate or in custody, for purposes of the health and safety of you and others; and
- To comply with laws relating to workers' compensation or other similar programs.

For Required Uses and Disclosures: Under the law, we must disclose your PHI to you when you request it as part of your right to inspect and copy or your right to receive a list of disclosures. We also must disclose your PHI when required by the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services to investigate or determine our compliance with the requirements of the Privacy Rule.

Right to receive confidential communications: You have the right to request that we communicate with you regarding your PHI by alternative means or at alternative locations. We will accommodate reasonable requests if you tell us that the disclosure of all or part of that information could put you in danger. You must send a request in writing to us, and tell us what alternative method of contact or address you want us to use.

Right to inspect and copy: You have the right to inspect and obtain a copy of PHI about you that is contained in a designated record set. A "designated record set" includes the enrollment, medical, and payment records and any other records that we use for making decisions about you. We may charge a reasonable fee for copying and postage. This right does not apply to psychotherapy notes or information compiled in reasonable anticipation of, or use in, a civil, criminal, or administrative action or proceeding. In most cases, we will provide the requested information within 30 days if the information is maintained on site or within 60 days if the information is maintained offsite. If we deny your request, you may have a right to have this decision reviewed by an independent health care professional chosen by us. You must send a request in writing to us, and tell us what PHI you are requesting and in what format you would like to receive it.

Right to amend: You have the right to request an amendment of your PHI in a designated record set if you believe it is incomplete or incorrect. We may deny your request if we determine that the PHI or record that is the subject of the request was not created by us, would not be available for inspection, or is accurate and complete. In most cases, we will act upon your request within 60 days. If we make more than one request in a 12-month period, we may charge you a reasonable fee for responding to the additional requests. You must send a request in writing to us, and tell us the time period and format in which you want the list.

Right to obtain a copy of this Notice: You have the right to obtain an additional paper copy of this Notice upon request.

OUR LEGAL DUTIES REGARDING YOUR PHI
We are required by law to maintain the privacy of your PHI and give you this Notice of our legal duties and privacy practices. We are required to follow the terms of the Notice that is currently in effect. We reserve the right to change the terms of our Notice at any time, and to make the new notice provisions effective for all PHI that we maintain, including PHI created or received prior to the effective date of the revision. We will distribute a revised Notice of Privacy Practices to you within 60 days if there is a material change in our privacy practices.

COMPLAINTS
If you believe your privacy rights have been violated, you may file a written complaint with us. You may also file a complaint with the Office for Civil Rights, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, 601 East 12th Street, Room 24B, Kansas City, Missouri 64106. We will not retaliate against you for filing a complaint.

CONTACT
You may contact the Privacy Officer for further information about the complaint process, or for further information about matters covered by this Notice. The Privacy Officer can be reached by mail at 505 S. Broadway, Suite 117, Wichita, Kansas 67202-3922, or by phone at (316) 264-2339.

This would make education and training become more meaningful to the people that were actually doing it. He has continued on for the number of years since then until now. It is my understanding that he is downsizing and moving out of several different areas to where he has committed a lot of his retirement time.

I thought it was only fitting that we include a picture of the Certificate of Recognition that he received from Governor Kathleen Sebelius via Secretary of KDHR Jim Garner, and share it with the members so that we could all remember the service that he has given - not only to our industry but to society.

Hope all is going well with all brothers and sisters.

“Blessing of the Bikes”

Over 1,500 motorcycles assembled in Frontenac, Kansas over the April 23, 24 and 25th weekend to have their bikes blessed. This community activity began eight years ago and has grown into a regional three-day event.

Rev. Robert McElvee, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, began blessing the bikes after his Sunday service eight years ago. McElwee blessed another 500 bikes at the MOKAN drag races on Saturday.

Plumbers & Pipefitters Union #441 members usually attending the Blessing of the Bikes on their Harley's include; Kenny Falletti, Mike Wolownik, Alan Drenik, Phillip Green, Jody Merando, E.J. Torbett, Charles Pennington and Doug Ligon. Last year 700 bikers attended the weekend get together that ended with a tornado sighting.

All proceeds go to local charities including MDA, Sacred Heart Scholarship Fund, and Sacred Heart Area Museum.

A legislative bill was passed in the House and Senate that could be very helpful in attracting a billion dollar powerhouse to Kansas. It is called the Future Gen Project.

The Kansas legislature gave the Kansas Development Finance authority to issue revenue bonds for the coal fired powerhouse if Kansas is successful. The bonds would be used to help finance the $200 million private share of the project.

Kansas has some advantages that the other 12 competing states do not have: 1.) central location, 2.) rail lines to transport coal, 3.) available workforce.

The bonds, if used, would be repaid by investors making up the power group. This project, as you know, would provide lots of jobs for our members.

Farmland Industries' refinery and fertilizer plant in Coffeyville, Kansas was sold on March 3, 2004 to Coffeyville Resources (CR). CR is an affiliate of Pegasus Capital Advisors of Greenwich, Connecticut.

The Coffeyville Resources entities were created for the purpose of buying the troubled refinery and terminal.

In 2002, the EPA issued a Clean Air Act Notice of Violation to Farmland. Farmland then entered into negotiations with the Justice Department, Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), and the Kansas Department of Health and Environment (KDHE). However, these negotiations were interrupted when Farmland filed for Chapter 11 Bankruptcy on May 21, 2002.

According to the EPA and KDHE, the refinery has been in violation since the 1990's. Farmland failed to install the appropriate emissions controls or Best Available Control Technology (BACT) when it increased the refinery's capacity from 71,000 to 125,000 barrels per day.

In order to sell the refinery, a consent decree with the Department of Justice requires Coffeyville Resources to reduce emissions by installing the BACT by 2010. The EPA estimates that the refinery improvements will cost $22 million.

Former refinery general manager Coleman Ferguson, as GAF Holdings, offered a bid to buy the refinery. His bid was found not to meet Farmland's criteria. Ferguson contested this determination.
Concrete Panels
Shipped Into U.S. for Building Construction

Salt Lake City's new library was built using concrete panels cast in Mexico City and shipped to Utah for assembly. This is a concrete example of U.S. jobs moving out of the country.

Making components in a factory and then assembling them at a building site is referred to as "panelization." This practice has been gaining ground in the housing and commercial construction industry for years.

The Utah contractor had more than 2,000 concrete panels cast in a Mexico City suburb. The panels were then shipped 2,350 miles north on 140 truckloads. Although the panels were assembled with Utah labor, panelization is an area that construction labor is watching closely.

Unemployment Extension Fails

The United States Senate refused to extend federal unemployment benefits by one vote on May 11, 2004. Democrats were trying to overcome an objection that passage could be a possible violation of last year's budget agreement

Republicans used April's employment report to show that almost one million new jobs have been created in 2004 and that additional assistance was not called for. The Democrats responded by recognizing that our country has lost 1.5 million jobs under the current administration.

The Democrats needed 60 votes in the Republican controlled senate in order to pass the legislation. The vote lost 59-40.

(Ed. note. Information in part from Associated Press).

United Association Weld Certification

Congratulations to Jesse Addis Jr., John Bird, Carl Cole, Mark Hromek, and William Lapping for upgrading their UA Weld Certification Cards.

The UA Welder Certification Program has no parallel in the building and construction industry. The program provides pre-tested, certified and immediately available welders at no cost to the construction contractor, saving thousands of dollars when many welders are needed.
More Union Finance Rules

U.S. District Judge Gladys Kessler has upheld the new, onerous union financial reporting rules the Bush regime created. In a 57-page decision issued on Jan. 23, Kessler said the rules fall within the limits of the 1959 GOP-written Taft-Hartley Act.

Judge Kessler recognized the AFL-CIO’s position that a March 1, implementation date didn’t give the 4,778 unions effected enough time to retrain their workers and redo their accounting systems to comply.

Kessler delayed the effective date to July 1, and added that this date could be postponed even later if the Labor Department doesn’t produce its promised free software to help unions meet their expanded obligations.
